Truman Predicts Soviet Defeat If Nations Rearm

But Tells Congress Free World Helpless Without U. S. Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman forecast today the "ultimate decay of the Soviet slave world," provided free nations build up their military strength.

But, he told Congress, the free world cannot rear arm adequately without continued American help.

Submitting to Congress the first report on the $7,900,000,000 mutual security program, President Truman made his third plea in 24 hours for the plan's approval.

He told Congress, still talking about scaling down the program despite his 7,500-word special message to Congress yesterday followed by a direct radio-TV plea to the nation last night:

"The ultimate decision between free world and slave world lies in the balance . . .

Says 1952 Critical Time

"For the nations of Western Europe, the year 1952 may well be the critical time in the defense buildup, bridging the period between extreme vulnerability and effective preparedness."

Today's report went far beyond his message to Congress and the address to the nation in supporting arguments for the mutual security program, the official name for the combined foreign military and economic aid programs.

The President outlined the things already accomplished in the joint rearmament drive touched off by the outbreak of the Korean war as well as itemizing how new funds will be spent, and what can be expected.

But even Administration supporters conceded that the program faces a tough time in this election-year Congress.

Raps "Neutrality"

The President said "neutrality," which he defined as "the ostrich-like disposition to ignore the reality of the Soviet threat," has steadily declined as confidence in the free world's defense has grown.

He said "not one nation has turned from the path of cooperation" and that this country's Atlantic allies in Europe, including Greece and Turkey, have increased their standing armies in the past two years by more than half a million men. The quality of the troops, he said, has also increased.

The President said the power of Communism in the western European countries has declined. It remains a threat in France and Italy, although its power has been "very substantially reduced" in those countries during the past five years.

The danger of runaway inflation in Europe has been brought under control, he said.

Truman renewed his appeal for continued American support of efforts to increase the living standards of underdeveloped peoples in the Near East and Africa as the best means of gaining stability and fighting communism.

In the Far East Truman reported a continuing buildup of Chinese Nationalist forces on the island of Formosa and a steady flow of United States assistance to war-torn Indo-China. He also told of arms deliveries in small amounts to Thailand, Indonesia and the Philippines.

The President pictured all of the Far East as under the shadow of communism and said Red China is waging physical and psychological warfare against the young nations around its borders.

Only American assistance, he said, can continue to "contain" this.

Marcia Henning Local Winner

Eligible For Finals At Steubenville

WITH a spelling champion chosen at the Salem Junior High school and contestants selected at Leetonia to compete in the exempted village spell-down next month, the tempo is quickening for the big district finals at Steubenville the night of April 25.

Schools at Columbiana, Lisbon and the rural districts are expected to pick their best spellers in the near future.

Marcia Henning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Henning of 1273 E. State St., was crowned spelling champion at the Salem Junior High this week after a real word battle.

THE 13-YEAR-OLD 8th grader finally won out over Matt Klein, after three tries, it was announced by Miss Betty Ward, who supervised the written and oral tests. Young Klein, 13, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Klein of 1000 Newgard St.

As the Salem champion, Marcia is eligible to compete in the finals at Steubenville. If she can duplicate the feat of Curtice Loop, Salem winner last year, she will go to Washington, D. C., for the National Spelling Bee in May.

Klein is the alternate for the district event.

Runners-up and tied for third place at the Junior High were Jean Yarian, 13, an eighth grader and daughter of Mrs. Agnes Yarian of Washington Ave., and Barbara Shepard, 12, of the seventh grade and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Shepard of N. Ellsworth Ave.

THE three Leetonia contestants will compete against three from Columbiana and three from Lisbon in an exempted village spell-down at a later date. The winner of that contest goes to Steubenville. Jill Sanders was first in the Leetonia spell-down, Teddy Fickes second and Lynn Dyll Altomare, third.

Catholic schools in Salem, Leetonia and East Liverpool are to select their winners for a county parochial school spell-down, the date of which has not been set.

Meanwhile, the rural schools are choosing their representatives for the county spell-down, the date of which County Superintendent James McBride will set.

Salem, County Raise Record $24,144 For March of Dimes

Columbiana County residents broke their past records for generosity to the March of Dimes this year, giving $24,144.16 toward the fight against polio, A. R. Rapp of East Liverpool, county drive chairman, announced today.

The total was $6,491 above last year's collection of $17,653. All county committees also showed individual gains above last year's total, Kapp's report shows.

Salem residents gave $5,312.76 this year as compared to $4,276.93 last year. Other county totals are: East Liverpool, $9,324.08 this year and $5,850.76 in 1951; Columbiana, 1952, $1,250.96; 1951, $1,018.90; Lisbon, 1952 $2,020.95; 1951, $1,616.75; Leetonia 1952 $613.50; 1951, $484.25.

New Waterford 1952, $265.94; 1951, $181.48; Washingtonville 1952, $92.60; 1951, $71.40; Salineville 1952, $615.15; 1951, $505.27; Summitville 1952, $80; 1951, $54.10.

Wellsville donations this year were $2,960.43, county granges $192.56, Homewood $8, Rogers $165.44, North Georgetown $31, and Calcutta $149.86.

Half of the money collected stays in the county for local polio needs and half is sent to national headquarters for research and use in epidemic areas.

Pinay wants a political truce so that a team of experts can try and free the country from the threat of financial disaster. Premier Edgar Faure's cabinet, France's 19th since the liberation, fell a week ago after Parliament voted funds necessary for defense projects, but refused to vote the taxes to raise the funds.

"It is quite evident," Pinay told reporters after a morning of political parleys, "that if the MRP (Catholic Republicans) refuse to participate, my job will be very much simplified—all I will have to do is draft my reasons for giving up."

The MRP, which includes Foreign Minister Robert Schuman, voted almost unanimously to confirm Pinay yesterday. Like most other politicians, however, they had not expected that he would win. They were showing reluctance today to become "the left-wing of the right-wing."

3 Youngstowners Face Counterfeiting Charges

275 Hurt When Stands Collapse Before Ice Show

2 Seriously Injured Prior To Revue At Baltimore Armory

BALTIMORE (AP)—Top state and city officials today began a thorough investigation into the collapse of a section of bleachers at an ice show last night. At least 275 persons were injured.

32 of them seriously. Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland, who addressed a meeting in New York last night was one of the early arrivals at the Fifth Regiment Armory, barn-like site of the accident. With him was State Engineer Nathan Smith.

Will Make Survey
Paul Holland, Baltimore's public works director assigned by Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro to make a "full and complete" survey, said both the city and state groups would go through the wreckage "timber by timber and joint by joint."

The section of bleachers gave way at 8:25 p.m., a few minutes before Sonja Henie's ice revue was to begin its opening appearance. About 7,000 people were in the big building.

Just as the rink lights went on and the band struck up a tune, there came a sickening crunch that grew into a loud roar as the back section of seats dropped into a tangled mass of broken timbers and flailing arms and legs.

Miss Henie's manager said the stands were erected by a contracting firm headed by Ed Coronati of Westfield, N. J., described as a veteran in constructing that type of stand for circuses, fairs and similar events. He has erected similar stands at the same armory before.

The city's building inspector, Paul Cohen, declined to issue a permit for the seating because the stands were not completely erected when his office inspected the site yesterday afternoon.

However, a city permit is not mandatory because the state has jurisdiction over the armory. No state permit is necessary.

Driver Fined $10 For Crashing Stop Sign

Raymond Farrall of RD 4, Salem was fined $10 and costs by Justice of Peace Felix Butch at Lisbon last night after pleading guilty to failing to stop "for a thoroughfare sign."

Farrall was arrested on a charge by Lawrence E. Cline of near East Liverpool who said Farrall passed him as Cline was stopped for the sign.

Ike, Truman Have Edge In New Hampshire Poll

CONCORD, N. H. (AP)—The second and final newspaper editors' survey of "grass roots" sentiment in the New Hampshire primary election campaign again indicates Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has a slight lead over Sen. Robert A. Taft today—but by a smaller margin than a week ago.

Editors of eight Associated Press member newspapers provided the appraisals after taking soundings of sentiment in their counties.

At the same time, a majority estimated that President Truman would defeat Sen. Estes Kefauver, of Tennessee, by possibly three-to-one.

New Hampshire voters go to the polls next Tuesday. Taft, Eisenhower, Harold Stassen and William R. Schneider, St. Louis attorney, are running in the Republican race. And a slate of delegates favorable to Gen. Douglas MacArthur has been entered.

On the Democratic side, Truman and Kefauver are pitted against each other.

Will Give Preferences
Apart from the slates of delegates, the voters may mark their ballots in a preferential section of the ballot, known as the "popularity contest." This is a direct vote for the candidates, themselves.

The newspaper editors—some of whom have conducted polls to determine the trends of sentiment—gave the following percentage appraisals of popular sentiment among Republicans today:

Concord Monitor—Eisenhower 50, Taft 45, MacArthur and Stassen combined, 5. Last week, Eisenhower by 55-45.

Dover Democrat—Eisenhower 55, Taft 40, MacArthur and Stassen combined, 5. Same as last week.

Keene Sentinel—Eisenhower by 52-48. Last week, 50-50.

Laconia Citizen—50-50. Last week, "inconclusive findings."

Manchester Union-Leader—50, 50. Same as last week.

Nashua Telegraph—50-50. Last week, Eisenhower by 55-45.

Portsmouth Herald—Eisenhower by 52-48. Last week, Eisenhower by 55-45.

The Portsmouth Herald and Concord Monitor have endorsed Eisenhower. The Manchester Union-Leader, Dover Democrat, and Laconia Citizen based their estimates on polls of their own.

President Highly Favored
As to the popular vote among Democrats, the lowest estimate, in Dover, gave Truman a 65-35 edge over Kefauver. The majority were 70-30 for the President, and two estimated 75-25 for him.

The managing editor of the Manchester Union-Leader said regarding the Republican contest, "It's at least 50-50 here, and everything depends on the impression Taft makes. He could easily win enough extra support in his appearances here to come out ahead in the popular vote."

Similarly, observers on the Laconia Citizen said Taft might move ahead of Eisenhower, before Tuesday, if he makes a favorable impression. The Ohioan drew the largest crowd of any candidate, or supporters of candidates, when he spoke yesterday at Laconia.

Estimates of the delegate races by the editors generally agreed. Most thought Eisenhower's slate would win at least 10 and possibly 12 of the 14 GOP seats. A majority thought the Truman slate would score a clean sweep.

The town vote usually is almost three times larger than the city vote among Republicans, and twice as large among Democrats.

Quonset Point Air Station Robbery Scene

Credit Union Funds Taken From Post In Rhode Island

NAVAL AIR STATION, Quonset Point, R. I. (AP) — Two masked men carrying short, stubby revolvers held up the Quonset Point Naval Air Station Credit Union today and escaped with $100,000 in cash.

Naval Station officers said the bandits fled in a green sedan, racing through the air station gate at 50 miles an hour. Three Marines were on duty at the gate.

Government funds were not involved.

Gerald Lynch of Apponaug, R. I., the credit union manager, and Thomas Smith, civilian guard, were about to carry the funds—in canvas sacks—from their parked cars at the rear of the building when the bandits drove up.

Wave Their Guns
Lynch said the gunmen jumped out of their car, waved the guns at them and one of them said: "We're not kidding."

Lynch said the two men grabbed the money sacks, jumped into their green sedan and fled.

One of the Marines at the gate jumped into a car and gave chase but was unable to overtake the fleeing bandits. The bandits' car later was found abandoned and ablaze about five miles from the air station.

The bandits were wearing green Navy fatigue clothes and Halloween masks, Lynch said.

Lynch received the money a few minutes earlier from the Naval Disbursing Department to cash pay checks for civil service employees on the air station.

Was Civilian's Money
The $100,000 was the proceeds of a check Lynch said the disbursing office cashed for him.

The credit union is an organization composed largely of civilian employees at the station. Its assets are listed at $1,500,000.

The air station is located in the southern part of Rhode Island, on Narragansett Bay.

State police threw up road blocks throughout the area surrounding the air station and all roads leading into and away from the station.

Federal Bureau of Investigation agents arrived on the scene soon after the holdup.

A safe in the credit union's office was broken into in February, 1951 and $60,000 in cash taken.

Police To Shoot Loose Dogs In City

In order to reduce the threat of a spread of rabies, dogs which are allowed by their owners to run at large throughout the city will henceforth be shot.

County Deputy Dog Warden Russell Reichenbach and Humane Officer A. H. Fultz, alarmed over the number of rabid dogs and foxes reported in the county, have enlisted the aid of Salem police to combat the danger here.

Several "dog packs" have been roaming the city lately, prompting numerous complaints to police by residents. Dogs are not allowed to run loose, authorities state, whether they are licensed or not.

The decision to shoot the pets was made because of the impossibility in most cases, of catching the animals and impounding them.

Authorities advise all owners of dogs, who want to keep them, to get their pets off the streets immediately.

Secretary General Job In NATO Still Open

LONDON (AP) — That NATO job is still open.

The North Atlantic Council's deputies announced last night Dutch Foreign Minister D. U. Stikker had turned down their bid to the post of secretary general created at the council's Lisbon meeting.

Canadian External Affairs Minister Lester Pearson and Sir Oliver Franks, Britain's ambassador to the United States, already had declined to head NATO's unified civilian organization.

The deputies meet again next Tuesday to survey other prospects.

1951 Births In U. S. Set All-Time Mark

WASHINGTON (AP) — Preliminary figures indicate a record 3,833,000 births in the United States in 1951, the Public Health Service reported today. The previous high was 3,818,000 in 1947.

"Because of the small difference between the two figures, it is necessary to wait for final data for 1951 before determining whether 1951 is definitely the all-time high," the agency said in a news release.

The infant mortality rate dropped last year for the 15th straight year. The 1951 rate was 28.8 per thousand live births, contrasted with 47.4 in 1940 and 64.8 in 1930.

The national overall death rate last year was listed as 9.7 per thousand population, practically the same as for 1950 and the fourth year in a row it has been below 10 deaths per thousand population.

Winner of the prize last year was Leon Jouhaux, the anti-Communist French labor leader.

He is Lt. Col. Richard D. Creighton of Baton Rouge, La. He became an ace Nov. 27 when he shot down his fifth MIG-15.

Creighton made only one combat flight as a lieutenant colonel — his 100th. Four other jet pilots made their 100th flight over Korea at the same time, also earning tickets home.

The only remaining jet ace in Korea is Maj. William T. Whisner Jr. of Shreveport, La. He earned the coveted title a week ago on his 84th mission.

Wall Street Rail Shares Spark Improved Market

NEW YORK (INS)—Renewed buying of rail shares highlighted a selectively improved stock market today.

The further rise in carrier prices lifted this index to a new high for the year and within two points of the 20-year peak set in Feb. 1951. Leadership today was shared by Santa Fe, Atlantic Coast Line and Rock Island, all of which were up 1 point each. Northern Pacific rose 1/2 to its highest price in years at 71 1/2, as contrasted with a low of 31 1/2 last year.

Elsewhere in the list, Amerasia Petroleum continued to show strength with a new gain of 3 1/2 points.

Among the more popular market leaders, small losses were sustained by American Telephone, Kennecott, General Motors, Republic Steel and International Nickel. American Cyanamid sold off 1 while Dow Chemical was down 3/4.

Reds Try To Stall Possible Blockade

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—Communist-truce negotiators today sought to forestall a possible naval blockade of the Red China coast or an invasion of the mainland.

The Reds proposed writing a ban into a Korean armistice.

"It seems that what they are trying to do is to stretch the armistice agreement to any place in the world where forces in Korea have any territory under their control," said Col. Don O. Darrow.

He said the Reds held that "any military action would be prohibited, not only in Korea, but in any other place."

The Communist maneuver came during a discussion of withdrawing naval forces from Korean waters during a truce. Harvard-educated Col. Pu Shan proposed deleting specific reference to Korea.

There has been unofficial talk that the U.N. Command might attempt to enforce a Korean truce by threatening to blockade the China coast and bomb Chinese industrial centers if the Reds violate the armistice.

U. S. Marines beat off five pre-dawn attacks on the rugged eastern front in Korea today.

None of the attacks was in force. But they were the largest reported along the 155-mile front.

The Reds began probing positions of the U. S. First Marine Division about 2 a.m. The skirmishes continued intermittently until 6:45 when the Communists pulled back to the safety of their bunkers. The longest fight lasted about 20 minutes.

Stormy skies put the damper on aerial activity after highly successful raids on Red supply facilities Thursday.

Small Turnout Hears Quaker Band Concert

The American Legion Quaker City band put on one of its best concert shows last night at the Salem High School auditorium before a small but appreciative crowd of 100 people.

Director George D. Chappell said today his band played at its best but was not pleased with the small turnout.

Phantom On Rt. 40 Frightens Drivers

VANDALIA (AP)—The "Phantom of Route 40" is roaring down the national highway these nights—maybe along a stretch you've traveled on.

Listen to Roy Fitzwater, 30, a Greenville, O., trucker:

"It was spitting snow, and freezing rain, and very dark one night three weeks ago. I dimmed my lights when a car approached."

"When the car got about 200 feet from me, its lights went out entirely. Then a little light flicked on inside, and I saw this thing. It was horrible looking. It scared me. I jammed down my throttle and got out of there fast."

Five tales of the ghostly traveler have reached the state highway patrol here. Some truckers said the "Phantom's" car glows. Occasionally, the "phantom" gets out and reveals a Halloween mask, and a skeleton suit, with bones outlined in luminous paint.

Three truckers almost caught the macabre motorist a week ago. But he zoomed away, scraping his car against one of the trucks.

Maybe he's mentally ill, said a patrol officer—or maybe he's just got a weird sense of humor. But keep a keen eye, if you're traveling Route 40 in dead of night—in western Ohio.

Gas Company To Give Fuel a Natural Smell

EAST LIVERPOOL—Because natural gas has gone sissy, the Peoples Natural Gas Co. is installing an experimental odorizing unit to give it that old-time flavor for consumers in the nearby Midland (Pa.) district.

Years ago, when the Ohio Valley's gas was supplied by the rich Pennsylvania-West Virginia fields, the smell of petroleum announced a leak or an appliance left on but not burning.

W. S. MacWilliams, Midland manager said much of the fuel now comes from the southwest and by the time it reaches the east it is almost odorless, which could be fatal if a leak went undetected in a home or plant.

A special commercial preparation to be injected into the lines will impart the smell of petroleum and your nose will know if there is a leak. MacWilliams said if it is a success, the utility will use the odor in its entire system servicing 216,000 in Western Pennsylvania.

Case Of Diary May Undergo Inquiry

WASHINGTON (AP)—The strange case of an American general's diary which fell into Communist hands engrossed Capitol Hill today and may become the subject of a congressional inquiry.

The Army announced yesterday that an anti-American book circulating behind the Iron Curtain contained stolen excerpts from a diary kept by Maj. Gen. Robert W. Grow while he was military attache in Moscow. In it the general expressed belief that war with Russia is imminent.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services Committee said he had been informed of the incident. Asked if his committee would inquire into the circumstances, he replied:

"There won't be any inquiry about that this week."

The implication was that Vinson would await further information before deciding whether his committee should delve into the matter.

Youth Slightly Hurt In Traffic Mishap

A 17-year old Salem youth was slightly injured in one of the two city traffic accidents investigated by police Thursday.

At 5:08 p.m. a car driven west on W. State St. by Jack Sonagere of RD 3, Salem struck the right side of an auto, operated by Frank L. Byerley of 563 Franklin St., which pulled onto State St. from an alley opposite Jennings Ave.

William Craig of 306 Jennings Ave., a passenger in the Byerley car, sustained lacerations of the forehead, nose and lip and was treated at the Central Clinic. The Sonagere auto was damaged considerably.

Mrs. Virginia Crouch, Metzger Hotel, told police that at 8 a.m. as she was driving west on E. State St. and slowing down for the traffic light at Broadway, a truck-trailer operated by a Mr. Gailey of Midland, Pa. crashed into the rear of her taxi and damaged it considerably.

Teachers Hear Talk On Bright Students

LISBON—Dr. Edna Oswalt of Kent State University spoke on "The Superior Child" at the Teachers Association's annual dinner Thursday night in the Pythian Temple. Forty-five attended.

A professor of the department of special education, Mrs. Oswalt suggested three ways to help the exceptional students: acceleration, program enrichment and homogeneous grouping.

She was introduced by Mrs. Bernice Arter of Lincoln School, a member of the program committee headed by Miss Nancy Bauknecht of the high school.

A skit, "Bluebeard's Thirteenth Wife," was given by Mrs. Victoria Hum, association president; Mrs. Bernice Freshley, Mrs. Virginia Smeltzer, Mrs. Florence Forbes and Gerald Fauls, all of Lincoln School.

Mrs. Rupert Thyng was reader. Decorations followed the St. Patrick theme. Place markings were green carnations and shamrock cards made by the high school art department.

The association will elect officers in April.

Morris Traces Origin Of Automobile Club

LISBON—The American Automobile Association traces its beginning to the provocation of a New Yorker who couldn't find any place to park his new "gas buggy."

Albert A. Morris of Salem, manager of the Columbiana County Motor Club, gave that paradox Thursday at the Kiwanis Club luncheon in the Pythian Temple.

Speaking on "Fifty Years With Motor Vehicles," Morris traced the history and work of the AAA organized in 1902 at Chicago, and recalled experiences from his 27 years with the county motor club.

Beginning with the New York club formed by the aroused driver in 1899, eight others were organized within two years, Morris said, as motorists fought to get some rights.

"Now there are 700 clubs and a membership of over 3,000,000," he said.

Morris amused the club with a 1921 letter from a Beaver Falls doctor asking the county club to give him the best route from Salem to Alliance; and another, dated 1927, in which the club dunned an East Liverpool motorist for damages in a Lisbon collision—$20 for a new fender, installed!

Touching on driver-training classes for high school students, Morris called the program the best weapon in a fight for traffic safety—the AAA's major problem.

Morris was introduced by Atty. Lynn Riddle, program chairman, who is a member of the motor club's board. Robert Leggett, president, presided. Russell Barrow of Columbiana, lieutenant governor of the 15th Division, was a guest.

Korean Vet To Marry Girl, Return To Jail

Hendershot, a 20-year-old wounded Korea war veteran, admits in court to having burglarized several establishments here. For that, he has been sentenced to a reformatory term of from one to seven years.

He said he went AWOL from Fort Knox, Ky., because pain from the bullet in his side made assignments there unbearable. Being AWOL, he said, he dared not look for work.

Germ Warfare

AS FAR BACK as World War I, the idea of germ warfare had been brought along far enough to strike horror.

As far along as World War II, the idea was far enough along to be one of the most serious potential menaces of that unscrupulous conflict. But the potential menace, so far as is known officially, never materialized.

The Chinese and North Korean Reds now charge that it has materialized in the Korean War. The accusation has been denied categorically by Secretary of State Acheson; the denial will not catch up to the accusation. Even if it did, it would not be credible to the Red combat troops who are known to be in the throes of an epidemic of typhus.

To suggest how credible the use of germ warfare is, under the circumstances, there is one possibility sure to be mentioned in the attempt to offset the Communist propaganda. That is the possibility germ warfare might have been started in Korea between the Red forces, themselves.

It is implicit in the history of conflicting ambitions in Asia that Russia should not want the North Koreans and the Red Chinese to grow too strong. It is worthy of a guess that friction between these elements of the Communist conspiracy and the element in the Kremlin may be the cause of the fiasco in the truce negotiations.

If germ warfare has been waged in Korea, the obvious suspect from the United Nations point of view would be the other element interested in weakening the new military power in Asia—the Russians.

Grand Jury Authority

ONE LIKELY result of a national housecleaning would be a clear-cut understanding of the authority of grand juries. Since there could be no thorough housecleaning without aggressive grand jury action, the question of how far a grand jury can go would be blown wide open.

Under existing circumstances the question is being pried open by slow degrees. In 93 federal judicial districts urged to hold grand jury sessions to survey organized crime by the U.S. Department of Justice, nothing is being done in about half the districts. From the other half, only 3 reports have been sent to the Department of Justice. In the Los Angeles District, a federal judge has dismissed one such jury because he disagreed with what it was doing. Questions of legality have been raised in other federal districts.

The same questions are raised whenever a grand jury threatens to get out from under the control of the lawyers who hold all the official positions in the judicial system—federal, state and local. The general idea is that grand juries belong to the people and can do what they please.

The question is whether or not they really belong to the lawyers who hold the official positions of authority over grand juries. If that be true, they can be only as useful as they are permitted to be by members of this professional minority.

Potomac Steel

THE IMPRESSION that steel for the Ohio turnpike has been made available by federal hocus-pocus is as wrong as anything could be.

No steel is made in Washington. There is no source of supply on the Potomac. Steel is made in steel mills by people who produce value, thus creating the wealth which taxpayers levy on to finance Washington's decisions.

There has been no time for the last several months when Washington could not have given the nod that would have cleared up all doubt about steel for the Ohio turnpike. But, being Washington, it had to show its authority and swing its weight. It had to hem and haw.

Steel will be available when it's needed, barring an all-out war. Steel producers are turning out steel at a rate which is embarrassing public administrators who love to have shortages they can administer.

One day soon, unless America is careful, these people are going to declare a shortage of air and order everybody to hold his breath until they give the good word to breathe again.

Colors will be brighter in men's clothes, come summer, says a writer. We'll bet the women will look nice in them.

You are not going very far when you are satisfied to get a slap on the back just for coughing.

It's fun, men, to be anxious to get home on time—but that's an indication that you're getting old.

The UMT Problem

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Nation Hasn't Been Sold On Urgency Need

WASHINGTON
THERE ISN'T very much difference between the American Congress and the French parliament on the issue of facing up to realities in the world—except possibly in degree.

The French parliament doesn't want to tax to raise money for European defense.

The house of representatives doesn't want to adopt a system of universal military training so as to supply the manpower for the period of world tension that lies ahead.

In both instances the members are interpreting the will of the people as they understand it, and in both cases it adds up to an unwillingness on the part of people generally to face up to the facts of international life that their leaders have been trying to sell them.

In the United States the need for more manpower is apparent to the military leaders as they survey the accumulation of duties being piled up for them by the diplomats.

But the members of the House, all of whose seats are to be voted on next November, know that universal military training is not popular. That's why a majority have voted to send the universal military training bill back for further study. While it kills the bill for this session, the proposal for universal military training has many lives. The issue will not be sidetracked for all time. It will come up again and again. More trained manpower is as necessary as more planes and bombs.

WHAT IS BACK OF the negative sentiment throughout the country on the measure? Undoubtedly, upon analysis, it will be found that American people in recent years have been treated to an overemphasis on air power, which amounts to an underemphasis on land power. The air power is needed, too, but the public has been given the mistaken impression that airplanes can be flown without a tremendous army on the ground to take care of airfields, repairs, and the supply line. The idea that atom bombs or push buttons and gadgets will win a war has been fostered. The truth hasn't caught up yet with those illusions. There may be, for example, lots of wars like that in Korea, in which air power and sea power have proved inadequate to the task.

Another influence which has undoubtedly contributed to the attitude of public opinion is the way the Korean war has been fought. The constant attrition on American manpower without either an attempt at a decisive result or the maximum use of naval blockading power or air power against enemy bases to divert the enemy's ground troops has brought about a feeling of wide discouragement.

What many people, of course, do not understand is why the boys of 18 have to be taken into the camps for six months or any other period and then made subject to recall during a period of six or seven years when the Selective Service System is supposed to supply the men needed for all three armed services.

The argument that the universal military training system will some day supplant the draft with a trained reserve doesn't appear convincing when the end of the Selective Service process doesn't seem to be in sight.

THE PROPOSERS of universal military training would have fared better if they had not tried to set up a separate system and if they had planned to broaden the draft so as to include more men but with shorter terms of service for all of them. Maybe that's what will eventually come out of it. The Selective Service Law is on the statute books and calls for two years' service. An amendment to permit one year's service for certain groups and to permit volunteering for longer service for others may in the end provide a solution.

But whatever is the best way to solve the problem, the country hasn't been sold as yet on the necessity for urgency on a "training" program while the draft is in operation. If there's an "emergency," the draft is supposed to take care of it, says the observing public, and if that isn't enough, the reserve powers in the law can be invoked to bring back into service some of the draftees who have served their time. That's an inequitable set-up but it hasn't been argued out.

SOME SYSTEM of universal military service is bound to be enacted whether it is an enlargement of the draft or the introduction of a system paralleling the draft. But in an election year it's hard to get such measures adopted. After the November elections, it may be a different story.

Certainly the facts of the world situation do not permit any relaxation of preparedness. It will take a little more debate and the lapse of a little more time before both the French and American constituencies will vote the unpalatable but essential measures needed for defense.

Health To You

The Doctor Answers

SPEECH is terribly important for getting along in the world and it is not surprising, therefore, that parents sometimes worry if their children do not learn to talk as fast or as clearly as they think they ought to.

Q—What effect does a split uvula have on a child's speech? Our little four-year-old boy is slow in talking. Sentences are now being formed but some words and sounds are not clear.

A—The uvula has very little to do with speech, and the fact that it is split can be safely ignored in this respect. Children start to talk at different ages, and at different rates, and practically none of them make clear sounds at first.

Unless there is more delay in speaking than seems indicated by the inquiry, there seems little to worry about in this little boy.

Q—My son and his family have boils continually, and I should like to know what causes them, and what would prevent them from coming.

A—Boils are caused by infections involving the skin and portions immediately beneath. They tend to come more often and are more difficult to get rid of in persons who are under par physically, either because of some disease such as diabetes, or because of less obvious physical disabilities.

They are also fairly common in people whose skin is irritated by rubbing, such as wrestlers who come in contact with the mat. Where a whole family is involved in recurring boils, medical aid should be sought in an attempt to eliminate them.

But I think the title itself gives the tip to the 1952 plans . . . You'll notice it's "Mr. President" not "Call Me Mister."

The Triumph of Brains Over Brawn

Financial Plight Of New York City

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

THERE is no getting around the fact that the largest city of the United States, with a population of 8,000,000, is bordering on bankruptcy. Were the rules of accountancy generally applied to private enterprise applied to the affairs of the city, a receiver would have to be appointed by a court to protect the assets and perhaps to arrange for liquidation.

Mayor Impellitteri goes up to the capital in Albany to seek state aid. State officials come down to New York to analyze accounts. The politicians are scared.

I am not expert in municipal affairs, having devoted my years to other subjects. Nevertheless as a resident of this town, paying a heavy rent for the privilege of living in one of its barracks, I have for years noted the trend toward bankruptcy. First came Fiorello LaGuardia, a charming but absurd person. He was a very popular mayor who was the enemy of gamblers, like Senator Estes Kefauver, but he involved the city in social enterprises beyond its capacity to pay for them. When William O'Dwyer became mayor, he found the till empty.

IN SPITE OF THAT, the city took on the socialistic enterprise of owning an obsolete transportation system, including the subways. Since then, the city has been forced to make up the subway deficits, to raise the fare from five cents to a dime, to increase wages without increasing revenue. The subway system is impoverishing New York. The politicians, headed by the mayor, are apparently stunned by the facts of life.

In addition, they face the violent Mike Quill, leader of the transport workers, whose union was once Communist controlled but is said now to be cleansed of that taint. Whether cleansed or not, the union is as tough on the citizens today as it was when Harry Sacher was its lawyer and two Communists, John Santo and Austin Hogan ran it with Quill.

If all the union demands were granted, and new ones appear as soon as the current ones are accepted by the city, subway fares would climb beyond common sense. The public does not want a 15 cent fare which means 30 cents a day, or $1.50 a week, going to and coming from work, to say nothing of an occasional trip for pleasure or to visit a friend or even a mother-in-law.

So the politicians go in for wishing and hoping and wondering who in the end will have to accept the political blame for the 15 cent fare.

MEANWHILE, the normal functions of the city—streets, schools, hospitals, parks—are suffering from inadequate appropriations. The firemen picket city hall for a wage increase. Anyone who knows a policeman personally or his family realizes that these poor devils, who have to take their chances against revolvers and switch-knives on their jobs, cannot make ends meet.

So, the lights are bright on the Great White Way, which is swiftly degenerating into a less glamorous Coney Island, and the restaurants are full and in the side streets, pushers work at dope and scoundrels trick young girls into vice. But there is not enough money properly to police the city and the parks are dangerous places at night.

It is a pity that this once beautiful city has fallen on such ugly days. I have lived here on and off, for more than half a century and no one can tell me how deep the degeneration is, because I see it in the dirty streets all about me. I remember, as a boy, walking through lovely streets which are now narrow lanes on which automobiles are parked bumper-to-bumper and, until recently, on some streets there was double and triple parking because the politicians hated to give out tickets and become unpopular.

Maybe New York is too large an enterprise to be run by politicians whose greatest experience in life has been to get themselves elected to office. It would seem that a reorganization committee, something like a Hoover Commission on Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government, needs to be appointed to look into the affairs of this gateway to America. Certainly, no palliative will help the city, although it might help the politicians win one more election before the richest city in the world goes broke.

American Way of Life

By TRUMAN TWILL

TO READERS who might be fooled by the name, The Wall Street Journal contains more than information about stocks and bonds. One of its best features is roundups of facts about private enterprise.

A few days ago The Journal did a roundup of stove statistics. It reported what everybody knows to be true—that most cooking is done on gas stoves, that gas stoves are sold in larger volume than electric stoves but that electric stoves are appealing to an increasing proportion of stove buyers.

The reaction was instantaneous and violent. Spokesmen for the gas industry and the manufacturers of gas stoves blasted The Wall Street Journal from hell to breakfast. One of the hells went so far as to sneer at the paper's "alleged integrity" and wind up his diatribe with a hint that anyone who said the electric stove business was doing all right was part and parcel of an "insidious growth that creeps into high places to destroy our American way of life."

The Journal drily observed that the reporter who had written the stove story was not interested in destroying the American way of life and let it go at that. Perhaps it shouldn't be let go at that.

Perhaps it is time for Americans to conclude there is too much bleating being done about destroying their way of life by people who are referring only to their own ways of life.

There never has been a day in America when someone's way of life was not being "destroyed." The revolutionists destroyed a way of life for the Tories. The North destroyed a way of life for the South.

Educators spoiled a way of life for the ignorant. Auto makers made a mess of things for the blacksmiths. Electric lights put a crimp into the gas-mantle business.

The gas people destroyed a way of life for many coal dealers catering to the home trade. The movies finished off the makers of stereopticon slides and viewers.

The American way of life is characterized by constant change, among other things; by clashes of opinions, by free and open debate, by access to information—by all the things which keep civilizations from going stagnant and taking up head-shrinking as a national hobby.

There is no intention here to be rough on the gas industry. The outbursts of its spokesmen were typical of something which is doing no credit to Americans. That's the trouble. They were typical.

You can almost bet on it that if you say something or do something which happens to ruffle someone else these days, someone will bowl that you are destroying the American way of life.

If it ever becomes the way of life these people must be thinking about, there would be no choice but to destroy it. Either that or abandon it and let the paleontologists figure out why all progress apparently ceased in the United States less than 200 years after the first settlers destroyed the original "American way of life."

So They Say

The President rather reminds me of a man who makes a big show of running the vacuum cleaner over the rug without the cleaner having been plugged in.—Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge (R., Mass.)

Postman

By HAL BOYLE

Least Recognized Educator

THE U.S. postman is one of America's best but least recognized educators.

He is a walking library on bunions, a traveling professor for the great university of the common man—the postal service.

This silent teacher delivers the world's knowledge in the worn leather bag slung from his shoulder. It is the 20th century version of Pandora's box, bringing endless tidings to mankind of old dismay and fresh hope—a draft notice here, a dividend check there.

He is a messenger of death and birth, a keeper of the tremendous secrets in small envelopes, the mute go-between for lovers, a salesman who works for the price of a stamp for distant firms.

Over the years the postman stirs more hearts than anyone. People wait tensely or eagerly for the sound of his footsteps on the walk, his whistle at the front porch—signals of the arrival of his daily cargo of magic and disenchantment. His reward for wading through snowdrifts to reach the family mailbox is at best a cup of hot coffee; more often it is a disappointed wail, "is that all you brought?"

BAD WEATHER and bad dogs ambush him, and he learns to bear with both.

He comes to know his neighborhood better than the cop on the beat, and he is harder to fool. He doesn't have to read the postcards to tell who is having a wonderful time. He doesn't have to open the letters to tell who is being dunned for non-payment of bills, what member of the family has gone away for his health, which college lad is writing home for more money.

By the number and nature of his mail deliveries he knows who is lovely, who is happy, which girl is getting along with her beau and which isn't. When little Johnny comes galloping out to grab a letter from a correspondence course in muscle building, he understands the situation at once.

"I GUESS it won't be long now until you'll be able to handle that bully down the street," he says.

The weather, the dogs and the people he meets turn him generally into tolerant philosopher. In time he becomes a connoisseur of mankind's woes, the confident and consoler of people who have no one else to talk to and wait by their mailboxes to tell him their troubles.

But he learns to keep his own cares to himself. How often can you tell somebody your feet hurt? Who worries if your shoulder is chafed and sore from lugging bundles of Christmas cards?

The one thing the postman cannot understand is why people always blame him about the letter they expect and never comes.

"IT MUST have gotten lost," they complain, looking at him accusingly as if he had chucked it down a sewer. And it is a wonder that more postmen don't throw more mail down a sewer and go home and soak their falling arches in hot water. But they don't, useless as they feel many of the letters are.

After 30 years or more of leaning into the wind with his heavy bag—three decades of treating frost bite and dog bite—the bent-over postman fails to appear on his appointed rounds.

What is his usual epitaph? One housewife says to a neighbor

"A new postman brought the mail today—a young fellow. I guess Mr. Jones must have retired."

"Yes," says the neighbor. "I hate to see him go. He's brought us so many letters over the years—ever since I moved here as a little girl. But he was getting awfully old and slow."

That neighbor who knocks is your volunteer Red Cross representative. And remember—he's not only contributing money, as he'll ask you to do. He's cheerfully donating precious time as well, to help you to help others. He deserves your thanks. Answer this call from the bottom of your heart! Give Generously.

Painful cramps of "Monthly Periods" stopped or amazingly relieved in 3 out of 4 cases in doctors' own tests!

• Women and girls who suffer from those functionally-caused cramps, backaches and headaches of menstruation — who feel upset and irritable on certain "particular days" — may often be suffering quite unnecessarily!

Such is the conclusion from tests by doctors in which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound gave complete or striking relief from such distress in 3 out of 4 of the cases tested!

Yes! Medical evidence shows Lydia Pinkham's thoroughly modern action. It exerts a remarkably calming effect on the uterus — without the use of pain-deadening drugs! The effectiveness of Lydia Pinkham's needs no proof to the millions of women and girls whom it has benefited. But how about you? Do you know what it may do for you? Take Lydia Pinkham's through the month. See if you don't get the same relief from the pains and weakness of "those days!" See if you don't feel better before and during your period!

Get either Lydia Pinkham's Compound, or new, improved Tablets, with added iron! If you're troubled with "hot flashes" and other functional distress of "change of life" — you'll find Lydia Pinkham's wonderful for that, too!

advice about keeping well

"THE MAN who thinks to conserve his health by useless mess and ease does not differ from him who guards his eyes by not seeing, and his voice by not speaking. . . . Least of all is it to be assumed that laziness is healthful, if it destroys what health aims at; and it is not true that inactive people are more healthy."

This excerpt from Plutarch's essay Advice About Keeping Well, written over 2,000 years ago, might have been written yesterday. Had medicine and pharmacy been as well developed then as they are today, we are certain he would have stressed the value of a periodic physical examination by a qualified physician. By the same reasoning, it is wise to take your prescription to a registered pharmacist for expert compounding. We are prescription specialists.

Charity Bingo Illegal, Appellate Court Rules

CANTON — By a 2-1 vote, the Fifth District Court of Appeals yesterday ruled that charity bingo is a lottery and illegal.

The court upheld a common pleas court ruling issued after the United War Veterans asked a declaratory judgment.

Judge Robert B. Putnam of Millersburg dissented partially with the other two judges. He said "pure charity bingo," where all the profits go to charity, should be legal. And he added that any abuse should be corrected by legislative action, not by court opinion.

State Defines Rt. 14 Bypass
Girl Scouts To Join National Celebration

COLUMBIANA — In a communication to Columbiana Council this week, the State Highway Department made it clear that a complete by-pass is planned for Route 14 by way of County Line Rd., marking to the northern boundary of both Columbiana village and Columbiana county.

The complete plan involves an entirely new section of highway about half a mile long from the present intersection of Route 46 and County Line Rd. to the P. R. Corey property on Route 14, northwest of town. This new construction will relieve traffic of a detour involved in coming into town and getting to and from the by-pass.

Effect of the by-pass on the interests of the town has been a subject of discussion. The plan to eliminate the intersection of Route 164 and County Line Rd. by dead-ending Route 164 on each side of County Line and deflecting 164 west to form a single intersection with Route 46 and the Route 14 by-pass, it is argued, will spoil an orderly expansion of Columbiana across County Line into Mahoning county and eliminate streets leading straight into town. The proposed new section of 164 would diverge from the present highway about a mile north of town.

Business interests will also suffer, it is argued, in loss of transient trade by withdrawal of automobile traffic. This trade amounts to a considerable volume over a little period of time.

"WORD STUDY as a Hobby" was the topic at the meeting of the Hobby Club of Columbiana Wednesday afternoon, for which Mrs. Allan T. White was hostess at her home, 223 South Elm St. Mrs. Clyde Richardson Sr., gave a talk on the topic, in which she stressed the importance of words. Forty-three words, she said, do 50 per cent of the conversational work of the average vocabulary, and she stated that a knowledge of the Greek and Latin roots would be an invaluable aid to any plan for increasing an individual's word power. Mrs. Louise Kazmaier of Alliance was a guest of Mrs. James Barrow. The club will visit Mrs. Wood's hobby shop, Mahoning Ave., Youngstown, Wednesday, April 2. Columbiana Girl Scouts are joining in a national celebration of the 40th anniversary of scouting in America, beginning this Saturday and continuing through Saturday, March 15. Girl Scout organizations in Columbiana have a membership of more than 120 girls of the 7-15 age groups. The two troops are sponsored by the Ladies' Auxiliary of Firestone American Legion Post, Brownie Troop 2 by the Methodist Church, and Brownie troop 3 by Jerusalem Lutheran Church.

ADDED SUNDAY school room in the Methodist Church will be provided by filling the gymnasium pit and extending the basement cement floor, which will add about 4,000 square feet of floor and nearly double the size of the basement. Contractors Earl Newell & Sons are doing the work. Changing conditions have made the gymnasium less used than when the church was built 29 years ago.

Columbiana Chapter, O. E. S., will observe next Tuesday evening its 32d anniversary with a birthday party at which members of Leetonia chapter, the mother chapter, will be guests. A program of entertainment is planned. Lunch will be served.

The Columbiana postoffice quarters in the Barrow building are being refinished throughout in natural oak. Members of the Kindergarten Mothers' Club, meeting in the High School building Wednesday evening, inspected the new asphalt tile floor covering they provided for the Kindergarten department in the High School building. The covering is designed to promote quiet and cleanliness. They decided to purchase a three-speed record player for the department and will have an Easter party Thursday, April 10, with prospective kindergarten mothers next year as guests at tea. Details have not been completed. The next meeting will be Wednesday, April 2.

After a short business meeting next Wednesday evening, Sunset Temple, Pythian Sisters, will clean the K. of P. Lodge quarters. Each member of the temple is to take a poke lunch.

Man Lives To Tell About 7-Story Fall

CLEVELAND (AP) — How does it feel to fall seven stories—and live to tell about it?

Windows flashing by. A helpless feeling of turning over and over. A fear of sudden death. And then a surprised and happy feeling when the fall ends and you are still alive.

These are the sensations burned into the memory of Walter Garrity, a 40-year-old construction worker. He fell from a wing of St. Vincent Charity Hospital Tuesday and landed in a shallow excavation after crashing through planks covering the opening.

Despite the 97-foot drop, amazed doctors found his most serious injury was a fractured left ankle.

"It happened so fast, I didn't have time to pray or think about my wife, Garrity said from his bed at St. Vincent today.

"I was pretty well padded," the 190-pounder grinned. "Both with flesh and clothes. I had heavy trousers and overalls, a heavy shirt, a jacket and special safety shoes."

A dirigible containing helium gas seldom is inflated more than 85 per cent when leaving the ground, but as soon as the ship begins to rise, the gas begins to expand and fills the bag to capacity.

Outfielders Show Up Well In Tribe Intrasquad Game

Simpson Raps Out 4 For 6

Wakefield Continues Work Behind Plate

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Maybe Cleveland Manager Al Lopez was a little hasty in saying Outfielder Harry Simpson was looking bad. Just a day after he said that, Simpson collected four hits in six trips to the plate off the Indians' top relief pitchers, Lou Brissie and Steve Gromek. He got a double, two singles and a safe bunt.

The other outfielders also looked good against Gromek and Brissie in yesterday's intra-squad game. Larry Doby poled a homer and a 400-foot double. Dale Mitchell singled three times, and Rookie Jim Fridley swatted a double and two singles.

Their side, the Lobes, beat the Kresses, 10-3.

This was the first time that Mitchell had been used in a cleanup position since Lopez announced he had decided to take Dale out of the leadoff spot. It worked well. He knocked four runs across the plate.

Gromek and Brissie didn't find these developments so encouraging. The Lobes hit Gromek for five runs and six hits in three innings and Brissie for three runs and four hits in three innings. Though he wasn't bearing down, Mike Garcia looked great. He held the Kresses to one unearned run and three hits in three innings.

DICK WAKEFIELD caught again yesterday and operated smoothly. He got a good laugh from the 2,500 spectators by strutting back to the dugout after throwing out Merrill Combs in an attempted steal. . . . Dick (Wild Man) Rozek walked only one batter in three innings. . . .

Sam Jones' arm really is sore. He pitched 435 innings in three leagues last season. Dr. Don Kelly says he thinks it's a common sore arm that "we'll wait and see. . . . Other Indian "cripples": Luke Easter (the knee still bothers him). Catcher Dick Kinaman (sore shoulder). Lou Brissie (the leg hurts plenty when the painkiller wears off). Dale Mitchell (sore feet). Pete Reiser (sore hand) . . .

Tusconites are rushing for tickets to tomorrow's Giants-Indians game. Traveling Secretary Spud Goldstein says "everybody is begging for a reserve seat. . . ."

The Indians' brass is looking into the possibility of a spring barnstorming tour around Mexico City next season. This is because West Coast parks won't let them play there. . . . Catcher Quincy Troupe got a single and a double yesterday, but Lopez wonders about his work behind the plate. Al says: "He's too quiet for one thing. He never says a word back there."

Fight Results

St. Paul — Joey Maxim, 184, Cleveland, outpointed Ted Lowry, 179, Boston, 10 (non-title).
Syracuse — Robert Villmain, 164, Paris, knocked out Joey DeJohn, 163½, Syracuse, 9.

Ten Thoroughbred Race Horses Are Destroyed

PLEASANTON, Calif. (AP)—Ten thoroughbred race horses were destroyed as fire swept through a barn at Historic Alameda County fair grounds last night.

Some 50 horses were in the 800 foot barn when the fire broke out. Seven burned to death in stalls; one was burned so severely it had to be shot; another was killed by a truck, and the tenth broke a leg and was destroyed.

Paddy Young, Rock Durando Fight Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—Left-hooking Paddy Young of New York is rated a 7 to 5 favorite to whip Ernie (The Rock) Durando of Bayonne, N. J., at Madison Square Garden tonight and earn a middleweight title shot.

This fourth meeting of the two power-punchers has aroused the interest of fight fanciers. A good crowd of 10,000 and a gate of close to $40,000—big money in these television days—was anticipated by the promoting International Boxing Club.

The ten-rounder will start at 10 p. m. (EST) and will be broadcast and telecast across the nation. The telecast will be carefully watched by Middleweight champion Ray Robinson who has signed to fight the winner in a title go at the Garden, May 16.

The 23-year-old Young, and the 25-year-old Durando are all even after three clashes. Paddy won the first one, on Sept. 15, 1950, by a wide margin. Durando, a terrific right hand clouter, captured the second by split decision, Nov. 2, 1951, and 28 days later they fought to a draw.

This is flat-nosed Paddy's first start since the draw. Durando, meanwhile, boosted his prestige by stopping Rocky Castellani in seven rounds at the Garden, Jan. 11. The Bayonne Bomber put Rocky away with as pretty a right uppercut as you'll ever see.

Burke, Three Pros Tied In Tournament

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—The marked man of the winter golf circuit, Jack Burke, Jr., of Houston, Tex., showed no signs today of winning the pressure applied by his envious fellow professionals.

Handsome Jack, winner of three straight tournaments and the top money-maker of the 1952 season, definitely is the man to beat in the $10,000 St. Petersburg Open.

The 160-pound Texan was right up there in the lead again, deadlocked with three other pros, as the bulky field of 171 teed off for today's second round. They joined him yesterday in shooting sizzling rounds of 66, six under par for the Lakewood Country Club Course.

The way Burke earned his first place tie as he finished in a drizzling rain indicates that the guy, instead of weakening from the red hot pace he has set in recent weeks, intends to go on winning tournaments indefinitely.

Clayton Heafner of Charlotte, N. C., Al Besselink of Chicago and Skee Riegel of Tulsa, Okla., had come in ahead of him over a dry course with 66s.

Ohio Division Of Wildlife Releases Fishing Book

COLUMBUS (AP) — A new edition of "How and Where to Catch Ohio's Fishes" has been released by the Ohio Division of Wildlife.

The 52-page booklet has detailed maps of lakes, showing underwater stump areas, vegetation, boat landings, etc. It also gives tips on baits and lures, and contains a section on how to identify 20 of Ohio's most popular fishes.

The booklet may be obtained for 25 cents from the information and education section, Ohio Division of Wildlife, 1500 Dublin Road, Columbus, Ohio.

Camp Briefs Spring Training

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Second string catcher Sal Yvars of the New York Giants is having a tough time.

Yvars has a blood clot in his right shoulder as a result of being struck by a foul ball. The previous day he was struck on the head by a swinging bat and had a lump on his head.

ORLANDO, Fla.—The fate of the Washington Senators this year, says Manager Bucky Harris, depends on his "gamble" to develop a pitching staff.

"Right now," Harris said yesterday, "I'd have to go along with the complaint that we have only one solid pitcher—Bob Porterfield. The others have to come through for us or we could be sunk."

If Sid Hudson comes through, he adds—"Sid says his arm doesn't pain him any more—that will make two solid pitchers and we'll be a heap better off."

Harris said he was toying with the idea of taking Mickey Harris off relief and making him a starting hurler. Bucky added he is trying Glenn Elliott, a West Coast rookie, as a starter.

BURBANK, Calif. — The St. Louis Browns will have six left-handed batters ready to face the Pittsburgh Pirates tomorrow for the first exhibition game.

However, Manager Rogers Hornsby doesn't like the left-handed deal and is urging right-handed batter Bob Nieman to speed up his outfield training. The injury to Roy Sievers, who swings from the right, has complicated the situation.

SARASOTA, Fla.—In order to get sluggers Ted Williams and Junior Stephens up to the plate more often, Manager Lou Boudreau is moving them up higher in the Boston Red Sox batting order.

"My idea," says Boudreau, "is to try to get both Ted and Stephens at bat five or six times in every game. In that fifth or sixth time one or both might hit a home run."

Williams moved from third to second and Stephens from fourth "cleanup" slot to third with Walt Droppa fourth.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. — Philadelphia Athletics Manager Jimmy Dykes was so pleased at having all 33 players on the roster signed and in camp that he gave the boys a day off today.

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. — Rookie Pitcher Bill Koski had one for his memory book today—whether or not he makes the Pittsburgh Pirates this year.

Koski, 29-year-old right hander, had the bases filled behind him when Manager Billy Meyer sent up home-king Ralph Kiner as a pinch-hitter in yesterday's intra-squad game. Koski struck him out.

Branch Rickey beamed his approval from a seat in the grand stand.

ORLANDO, Fla.—Rookie pitchers—John Dixon, Bob Ross and Harvey Grossman have been named to share the mound duties for the Washington Senators in their exhibition game with the Philadelphia A's tomorrow.

TAMPA, Fla.—Ewell Blackwell's first full-dress workout of the spring was described as a success today by Cincinnati Red Manager Luke Sewell.

Blackwell pitched two hitless innings and then eased off to allow three hits and two runs in the Reds' intra-squad game yesterday. He was throwing loosely and appeared in fine shape.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla.—The Philadelphia Athletics reported "all signed" today when Catcher Joe Tipton and utility infielder Billy Hitchcock came to terms.

Tipton, who hit .239 in 72 games last season, is believed to have signed for the same amount as last year. Hitchcock, a .306 hitter in 77 games, received a slight increase.

LAKELAND, Fla. — Second Baseman Gerry Priddy's signature on a $20,000 contract today enabled the Detroit Tigers to complete their 34-player roster. Priddy, who hit .260 in 154 games last season, accepted a reduction of $2,500. He is 32 years old.

Hogan Claims He's Not At Peak

Bantam Ben In Drive For Fourth Open

By HARRY GRAYSON
PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (NEA)—Ben Hogan has gone back to work, which is bad news for the playing professionals.

Now that the new million-dollar Tamarisk Country Club has been formally opened, Hogan has started to tighten up his incomparable game preparatory to bidding for his fourth United States Open championship in five years.

If he makes it a quadruplet in the Dallas he knows so well, June 12-14, it will most certainly be par for the all-time course and then some.

"I'm really after my fifth Open," says Hogan, as though he has been cheated out of some credit.

"When the United States Golf Association called the entire program off in 1942, I won the Hail America Tournament, which was the same thing as the Open, in Chicago. The USGA gave me the identical medal, so I have four of them. I'd like to get that in the newspapers."

Hogan remembers three things about the Hail America of 1942 in addition to having won it. He counted the scores lower than his on the board at the conclusion of the first round, and stood 47th. He played the last 36 holes with Bobby Jones and birdied the par three last hole.

Change Courses For Open

Hogan leaves Tamarisk, a secluded oasis on the edge of a sun-splashed desert, where he is the supervising professional at $30,000 for four months, in time for a week of practice at Seminole prior to the ritzy Palm Beach 18-19-20.

Bantam Ben seeks to repeat in the Masters, Apr. 2-5, at Augusta, where a year ago with 280 he completed his cycle of major American tournaments. With exhibitions at $1500 a rattle in between, he will next appear in the Colonial Invitation in his home town, Fort Worth, May 22-25.

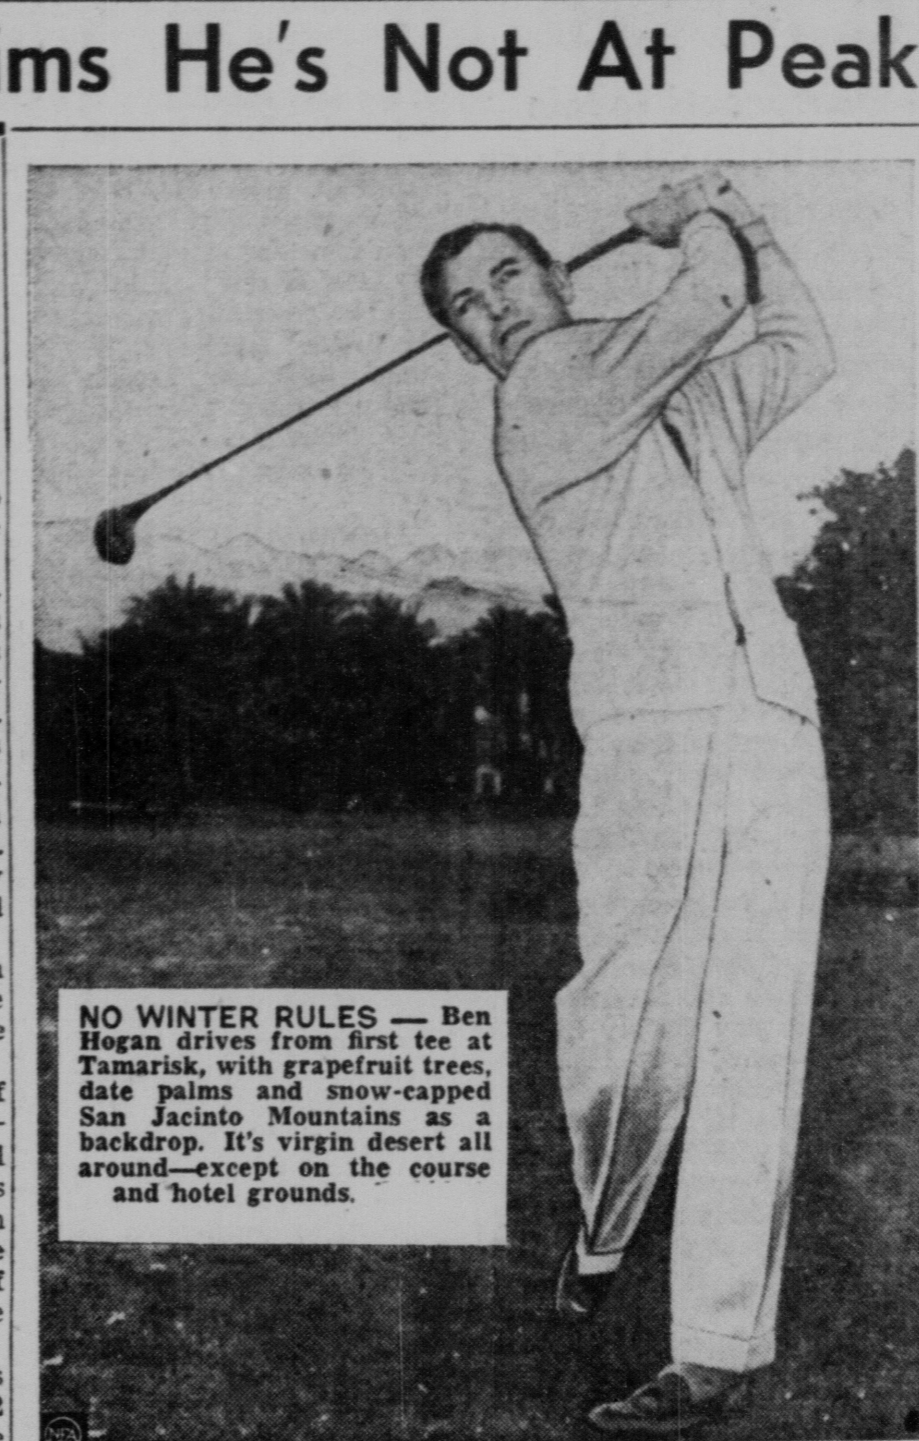

That should sharpen him for the Open on a Dallas course only two years old, and which the shotmakers contend is not so good.

"But let me assure you," says Hogan, "that courses are changed—but good—for the Open." Hogan has played the 1952 site of the Open twice, and, of course, all the boys will be acquainted with it by the time the first shot is fired.

Dominates Exacting Game

He will compete in only one or two other tournaments this year, the PGA Championship probably being out with him as it was last year.

At 39, Hogan insists he has not yet reached the peak of his matchless game, which also isn't calculated to spread joy among the money players.

He claims four Opens already. No one has yet been able to figure out how he set the Open record at 276 by turning Los Angeles' Riviera into Hogan's Alley in 1948 with final rounds of 67 and 69. He spent three years in the Air Force and was nearly killed in an automobile accident.

There is no telling how many Opens Ben Hogan would have had now had he been able to play through World War II and not had the crack-up, which kept him out in 1949.

Think of this and you more fully realize to what extent the incredible little Irishman has dominated the most exacting of games in more recent years.

Villmain Scores KO Over DeJohn

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UP)—The ring stock of rugged Robert Villmain boomed today on the strength of his knockout win over Joey DeJohn, his second important triumph within two weeks.

Villmain, who has sworn to take a world title back to his native France to replace the mid-deweight crown of the late Marcel Cerdan, rallied from an early knockdown to floor DeJohn five times and knock him out at 2:37 of the ninth round of

Amvets, Mullins Score Playoff Victories

Teams Scheduled Again Monday

Democratic Club Wins; CIO Tops Conways

The first round of the Shaughnessy playoffs for the city championship saw the Amvets and Mullins tally victories last night at the Memorial Building. The Amvets scored a 63-39 easy decision over the Sanitary while Mullins had trouble in winning, 57-54, over the Deming Pumpers in the two Class A League games.

In the other two games played following the main contests, the Republican Club girls' team took its second loss of the year from the Democratic Club, 17-15. The other Girls' League game saw CIO whip Conways, 15-10.

The Amvet-Sanitary game was the Amvets' most all the way as they outscored the Sanitary quintet in every quarter. The winners held a 14-10 lead at the end of the first period and moved the count to 28-17 at halftime.

Thirty-five points in the second half clinched the game for the Amvets as they held the Sanitary to just 22 markers.

Big John Pridon meshed nine goals and a foul for a 19-point total, while Jack Haldeman tallied 13 for the winners, also. Ray Kelly led the losers with 11 markers.

MULLINS HAD to score in the last ten seconds to make it, 57-54, as Demings came from behind and scored 21 markers in the final quarter and held the Manufacturers to 16.

With ten seconds left in the game, Eddie Bozich was fouled and elected to shoot the ball. However, the ball rolled off the rim with the score being, 55-54, but Mutt Schaeffer went high to tap the ball in to put his team ahead, 57-54.

The Deming outfit tried to get back in the game but their last minute tries at the hoop failed and the game went to Mullins.

Norm Smith, who did a fine defensive job on Dick Wyss, Demings' usual high scorer, tallied 14 markers for the winners while Schaeffer got 13. Carl Steitz led the Pumpers with 15 markers.

Mullins held a 13-10 quarter lead and finished the half with a nine-point advantage, 27-18. Demings opened the second half in fine fashion as they narrowed the lead to two points and remained just behind for the two remaining quarters.

Three Former Champs Beaten In Cage Play

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS (AP) — The talent toll was terrific again last night as Ohio's high school basketeers stormed down the district tournament trail.

Two former Class A state champs, one former Class B king, and a team which had won 25 straight were among the victims.

The set slashed the Class A contingent to 45 teams and the Class B sector to 42 leaving 1029 clubs in the "also-ran" division.

Grand Rapids' defending Class

B champions rolled to their 19th win in 20 starts, defeating the 1932 king, Castalia Margaretta,

by 62-49 at Fremont.

Castalia held a 45-43 lead going into the last period, but the champs had a 19-4 scoring advantage in the final session to win going away. Center Don

Trumbull contributed 26 points for the winners, while Guard

Chuck McGuire connected for 22

for Castalia.

DESHLER, which had copped

25 straight, was victimized 42-36 by Columbus Grove which racked up its 24th victory in 27 games. The hottest game of the entire tourney was staged by Mariemont and Reading in Class B at Cincinnati. Three overtimes were necessary for Mariemont (19-4) to triumph 49-47 as Reading dropped its fourth in 22 starts.

Lorain, winner of the first Class A championship in 1923, was ousted 56-48 by Cleveland St. Ignatius at Berea. Zanesville's 1926 Class A kings also dropped out as Steubenville's powerful Big Red won its 24th in a row, 60-49, at St. Clairsville.

The race for the 16 regional berths in each class gets under way in earnest tonight, with five of the 32 to be decided, three in Class A and two in Class B. The others will be named Saturday for next week's semi-final classics from which eight teams in each division will move on to the state finals here March 20, 21 and 22.

Columbus East, defending Class A champ, sees action tonight in the Central District semi-finals. The current kings have won 20 straight this year and are favored heavily over Columbus Aquinas, which has split even in 22 starts.

John F. Simpson of Chester, S. C. won the most heats on harness racing's Grand Circuit in 1951. He won 68. He also started the most times - 308.

Bob Lemon, who won 17 games for the Indians last season, allowed the most hits, 244, and the most runs, 119, in the American League.

During its 10-game 1951 football season, the University of Florida was penalized 47 times for 438 yards.

TO the SHORES of WAIKIKI

RACING THROUGH the waves on a surfboard off world-famous Waikiki beach in Honolulu sounds like an invitation from a travel agency folder instead of the off-duty recreation enjoyed by some lucky United States Marines. Naturally a Marine's life is not an easy one, but S/Sgt. Yokobaitis will quickly agree that duty with the Fleet Marine Force in the Pacific isn't too rugged. Uniform of the day after hours is likely to be a pair of comfortable slacks, flashy aloha shirt and a floppy coconut hat, even at Honolulu night spots. But, unlike tourists, Marines aren't on vacation. They must be ready for action anywhere.

SLIDING DOWN THE WAYS at a shipyard near New Orleans is the world's first "amphibious" sulphur mining plant. Freeport Sulphur company will operate it at Bay Ste. Elaine, La. Other barge-based plants also are to be constructed soon.

Secret, Open Plans Promote Communist Drive For Power

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
(Last of a Series)
FRANKFURT (AP) — Boring from within . . . That's the openly proclaimed policy for Communists in Western Germany. The World Federation of Trade Unions, an all-purpose revolutionary arm of Moscow, has made it clear. But there are secret plans, too, for tying the drive in this country to the world revolution Stalin seeks. The WFTU keeps quiet about those plans, but there is no doubt remaining that they call for creating chaos, if and when Moscow sees the chance.

As in other countries, the WFTU has its specific program for West Germany, meshed with the overall European and world plans.

The drive in Germany, as elsewhere in Europe, is aimed at the strategic industries. Some competent observers here express concern at the inroads it appears to be making.

Attempts at infiltration have been considerably stepped up in the industrial Ruhr Valley, where the Communists have built up a strong party organization. Semi-official sources place the Communist party strength in Western Germany at 375,000 members, of whom fully 150,000 are in the strategic Ruhr.

COMMUNIST STRENGTH
Within the west German trade unions had been falling off steadily, along with Communist overall voting strength in West Germany, until about mid-1951. Now, however, with the concerted Red campaign keyed to the rearmament issue, Red strength has been making some gains in union ranks. This is confirmed by persons in a position to know.

Just how much the Communists have gained is known only to the party itself. Communist headquarters keeps to itself the figures on its strength within the unions, and western Allied sources decline to estimate it at the present time.

The Communists have several trump cards which are being used with some success. One is the remilitarization issue. Another is the issue of German reunification. A third is the fear that Germany will become a battleground for a third world war—a strong fear in a country still reeling from the effects of the last conflict.

WEST GERMAN Trade Union
Federation has about six million members and exerts a powerful political influence. The great bulk of its membership is strongly anti-Communist. But there have been many labor protests against western plans to rearm the Germans.

The powerful Social Democratic party, chief opposition to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's dominant Christian Democrats, is as fiercely anti-Communist as any political party in Europe. Yet the Social Democrats have adopted a stand against remilitarization which is similar in tone to that taken by the Communist-controlled trade unions in Eastern Germany.

The Communists already are actively engaged in a campaign in this country within individual factories in strategic industries to agitate against the western defense program. The hand of the WFTU is clearly in evidence.

THE WFTU WORLD program is under the direction of Moscow's Communist International Information Bureau (Cominform). Its long-range plans, here and elsewhere, are geared with the forthcoming "unity of action" campaign, and with the campaign of "national resistance," both in European countries and the Middle East, to the United States. The plans also are tied in with a propaganda line built about the term super-exploitation. This accuses the United States of exploiting the working class of Europe in a drive to prepare for war.

The WFTU is closely linked with all major Soviet propaganda drives, such as the Berlin Peace Appeal, which it helped organize. The WFTU claims to represent 80 million members in 64 countries, but the bulk of this membership is in the Soviet Union, where the trade unions are simply creatures of the state.

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL members of the WFTU include such persons as Louis Sallant and Benoit Frachon of France; Giuseppe Di Vittorio, the WFTU president who heads Italy's Communist-controlled General Confederation of Italian Labor; and V. V. Kuznetsov, head of the state-controlled unions of the U.S.S.R.

These men have outlined the WFTU's open aims in Germany—to support all strikes and agitation against remilitarization, to infiltrate non-Communist labor ranks, to agitate for the kind of peace Moscow wants, to campaign for "independence from imperialist exploitation."

All this was made public in Berlin last November, at a meeting which hailed Stalin and vilified the United States. The secret aims laid down at that meeting were something else. This program includes plans for sudden, swift action if and when the Soviet Union sees the need to paralyze western countries by striking at the vital industries and stirring up political chaos.

That is the path charted for the Trojan horse in West Germany.

Homeworth Society At Malone Home

HOMEWORTH—Members of the Ladies Aid and Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church voted to donate $10 to the Polio Fund when they met at the home of Mrs. Juanita Malone.

Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Helen Heim and she read parts of the book of John. She also read a poem, "Would You Be Called A Christian?" The group sang "Have Thine Own Way."

The program was in charge of Mrs. Viola Linsey. Mrs. Linsey reviewed the books "We Americans, North and South" and "He Wears Orchids." A prayer for missionaries was given by Mrs. Erma Jackson.

It was announced $5490 was realized from the benefit sale. Mrs. Donald McGarrah reported on the work of the Guild of Intercessors. Mrs. Minnie Wymer was appointed to arrange rummage sale in the near future.

A motion was made to fill their quota to the National and Foreign Mission Boards. Mrs. Juanita Malone, Mrs. Myrtle Henning and Mrs. Margaret Freshley will serve refreshments.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Lowell Wagner March 28.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Morris and daughter Cindy of Be-loit called on Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Grimes Tuesday evening.

The Sr. Loyal Workers 4-H Club will hold a skating party at Starlight Arena in Deerfield March 18.

William Burkhart of Alliance RD called on Arthur Thomas Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Ruth Mangus and Walter Noble received word of the death of their brother Fred Noble, of Fort Worth, Texas. Mr. Noble was formerly of Crestline. Burial took place in Texas where his daughter lives.
